Prize of 271 Dem Nominating Votes Eyed by Hopefuls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The prize of 271 Democratic nominating votes lured presidential hopefuls into a weekend of Western politicking. Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) seemed most active at trying to lasso the votes.

Kennedy supporters reportedly approached California party officials Sunday and proposed terms under which he would stay out of the state primary. The terms were calculated to help Kennedy pick up convention votes.

Meanwhile, Johnson supporters, mulling about the Western Democratic Conference in Albuquerque, N.M., claimed Johnson already had more than 200 of the West's 271 convention votes. Kennedy forces looked on the claim as Texas boasting.

Besides Kennedy and Johnson, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) showed up at the Albuquerque conference. In a speech, Humphrey lashed out at the Republicans, calling them great wasters of resources, including human resources.

The Republicans were not absent from the West. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has a clear field to the GOP presidential nomination, spoke in Los Angeles Saturday and backed up the administration's defense policy.

"At the present time," Nixon told the California Newspaper Publishers Assn., "our present course seems adequate."

"The complex of strength—considering missiles, bombers with their Hound Dog missiles, Polaris submarines that will be coming along and all the other forces—is what counts," he said.

The Kennedy terms were given to Roger Kent, California Democratic state vice chairman, and Elizabeth Smith, national committee woman.

The senator's supporters told them Kennedy would stay out of the June 7 primary if Gov. Edmund G. Brown, the state's favorite-son candidate, would promise to release his delegates after the convention's first ballot.

One of the senator's staff explained there was concern that Brown might hold his state's 81 votes until it was too late to help Kennedy's chances for nomination.

So far only Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates for the Democratic nomination. But Johnson, in Indianapolis Saturday, seemed to leave the ranks of those candidates who won't admit it.

For the first time, he talked about his "candidacy." He told newsmen he expects to be chairman of the Texas delegation at the July convention "and I hope it will be committed to the support of my candidacy."

In Baker, Ore., Humphrey attempted to use the identical forum as President Eisenhower and outline what the Democratic party stands for.

Last month, the President had answered a letter from Shirley Jean Havens of Arvada, Colo., by telling a nationwide audience what he thought the Republicans stood for.

Humphrey told a Baker dinner meeting that he, too had written to Mrs. Havens. He said he told her: "The Republicans have a very restrictive idea of what can be done for the country. On the other hand, the message of the Democratic party is the message of service."

While the weekend of speech-making flourished, the final stage was set for the nation's first presidential primary. Filing for the March 8 primary in New Hampshire closed Saturday with Nixon unopposed in the Republican preference poll and Kennedy opposed by Chicago gun manufacturer Paul C. Fisher in the Democratic poll.

In another section of the primary—the election of convention delegates—the Republicans had an overflow of Nixon candidates plus some favoring Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and Lar Daly of Chicago.

The Democratic delegate race included many Kennedy candidates plus some for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Humphrey, and Adlai Stevenson, the party's candidate in 1952 and 1956.

Police Seek Killer Of Dentist, Patient
CHICAGO (AP)—Police had only a few clues today as they sought to track down a killer who invaded a dentist's office and fatally shot the dentist and his patient.

Some detectives theorized it was a drug addict who walked into Dr. David Friedman's second-floor office and fatally shot Steven Bavisik, 45, the patient, and the 50-year-old dentist.

Police found the victims—each shot once in the head—late Saturday night in Dr. Friedman's blood-splattered office. Bavisik was dead in a pool of blood. The unconscious dentist died early Sunday in a hospital.

Cartwright Trial Opens; Courtroom Heavily Guarded

Thomas M. Cartwright, 35, Flagstaff, Ariz., went on trial today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court for armed robbery.

Cartwright, formerly of Washington C. H., is charged with participating in the holdup of Mom and Pop's Place, Route 2, Williamsport in September, 1958.

He was indicted by the September 1958 term of the County Grand Jury.

According to statements taken from the two other participants in the robbery, Virgil L. Boggs and Paul H. Hurles, Cartwright held the blue steel revolver on Mr. and Mrs. William Kadel, owners of a combination filling station and grocery store.

IMMEDIATELY after the robbery Cartwright headed toward Arizona while Boggs and Hurles remained in Washington C. H. and were apprehended the evening of the robbery.

Both Boggs and Hurles were sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary, Columbus, for 10 to 25 years. Cartwright was apprehended by the Arizona office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and an alert Flagstaff policeman.

Cartwright was involved in a fight, arrested and confined overnight in a Flagstaff jail. During that time he was routinely fingerprinted.

A policeman who specialized in fingerprinting and attended school for additional training, spotted Cartwright's fingerprints on wanted circular and notified FBI officials.

A check was made and positive identification resulted through Washington D. C. FBI headquarters.

ELABORATE precautions were taken at Cartwright's arraignment by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. The prisoner was handcuffed and his arms bound by a heavy thick belt which was held from the rear by Radcliff.

Additional precautions were taken today. Four Sheriff's deputies manned the front entrances of the courtroom. Court Bailiff Robert Adkins was on guard at the rear entrances.

Today's session was held before a packed courtroom, consisting mostly of Scioto Twp. High School students. Cartwright is being defended by local Attorneys Lemuel B. Weldon, 210 S. Court St., and David Kraft, Ashville.

County Prosecutor Ray W. Davis, 114½ N. Court St., represented the state. Common Pleas Judge William Ammer presided.

According to Sheriff's officials, Cartwright is suspected of attempting to break out of County Jail on two separate occasions recently.

C of C Annual Meet Thursday

Rev. Paul Wachs
Main Speaker

Annual Membership Meeting of Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce will be held at 6:30 p. m. Thursday at St. Philip's Parish House, for members, their wives or guests. A turkey dinner will be served by the ladies of the church.

An interesting program has been planned, featuring a dramatic presentation by the Rev. Paul Wachs. It is John Drinkwater's play, "Abraham Lincoln". The play presents an analysis of Lincoln's career and character. The Rev. Wachs does all the parts in the play from memory.

Special music will be heard during the dinner. Larry Varble will officially turn over the gavel to the new president of the chamber, Douglas L. Cotterman and his new staff of officers.

Tickets may be obtained from any director of the Chamber or Secretary Darrell Hatfield. The sale of tickets is limited. It is important that members obtain their tickets by today. Call GR 4-5719 or GR 4-3322 for reservations.

Program arrangements are in the charge of Dr. G. D. Phillips, Lawrence Goeller, Jr., and Dale Ankrom.

Ex-Con Too Slow In Drawing Pistol

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police grabbed him before he could reach his loaded revolver, but Walter E. Jones, 22, an ex-convict from Waco, Texas, said: "If I had the chance I would have used it."

After his arrest Sunday night in a downtown movie theater, Jones admitted a string of robberies and burglaries in recent weeks in Greater Cincinnati.

No charge was filed immediately. Police said Jones may be involved in other holdups with a friend, Raymond J. Kahney, 23. Arrest of Kahney by detectives probing a $450 pharmacy holdup led to Jones' arrest. Officers said Kahney denied any part in the holdup, but said Jones was in on it.

Argentina State Aides Get New Work Hours
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentine government employees are to work noon to 8 p. m. under a schedule effective March 1. Most of them now work six or seven hours by day and handle regular jobs in private industry on the side. Authorities hope the new, less attractive schedule will induce some to drop off Argentina's heavy bureaucratic payroll.

2 Senators Claim
No Good Accomplished

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) have launched separate fights to reduce the $3,696,000 that Senate committees want to spend on investigations.

The Senate takes up the money requests today.

Chief target of Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, is the $425,000 proposed to finance continued operations of the anti-monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Dirksen contends that subcommittee hearings on pricing practices in the steel, automobile, asphalt roofing and bread industries have served only to harass business men and have produced no legislation.

Kefauver claims the subcommittee has shown that price competition is disappearing under the weight of what he calls monopoly power.

Kefauver said in a report that his group plans future hearings on pricing practices in industries manufacturing building materials such as glass, plumbing fixtures, asbestos and gypsum products.

He said new hearings are in prospect on the expansion of professional football and baseball leagues. He added that the subcommittee staff already has begun a preliminary inquiry into professional boxing.

Kefauver's budget for the year listed 39 employees on a $361,290 annual payroll, with $27,000 requested for travel.

Ellender served notice he will fight to cut down funds for more than a score of other investigation groups.

Chessman Loses New Bid for Life

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Convict-author Caryl Chessman today was denied a stay of execution, scheduled Feb. 19 in the San Quentin prison gas chamber.

Judge Richard Chambers, chief justice of the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, also refused to issue a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

This would have granted Chessman a hearing before the full Court of Appeals in an effort to reverse U.S. District Judge Louis E. Goodman's refusal to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

Chessman now is expected to appeal again to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has considered the case 13 times.

Should this effort fail, an appeal for clemency probably will be made to California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Chessman was sentenced to death in 1948 on charges of kidnapping, robbery and perverted sexual assaults against two young women. He has been in death row for nearly 12 years and has escaped seven earlier execution dates through various legal moves.

Judge Chambers is not an unknown figure in Central Ohio. He married Mary Martin, native of Pickaway County, and both visit Circleville frequently. Mrs. Chambers owns two farms in western Pickaway County and consults with Attorney Charles H. May, dean of Circleville lawyers.

Ohio Chiropractors Name New Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U. R. Desenberg of Mansfield is the new president of the Ohio Assn. for Chiropractic Education.

He was elected Sunday to head the group's board of directors. Other board officers are Dr. Arthur Nagode of Cleveland, vice president, and Mrs. Irene Martin of Attica, secretary-treasurer.

Soviet Sub Fleet Said Grave Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke says the Soviet Union has cut down on submarine production, but the Soviet submarine fleet poses "one of the gravest military threats we face."

It is known that some Soviet submarines can fire missiles, the chief of naval operations told a House Appropriations subcommittee. He did not elaborate in that portion of his testimony made public today, but he said the Soviet threat extends both to sea communications and to U.S. cities.

Burke's testimony also supported current U.S. intelligence estimates based on Soviet intentions as well as Soviet maximum capabilities.

"We have made gross errors in the past by using the old system," he said.

Burke cited what he said were estimates that the Soviets could build "hundreds and hundreds of long-range bombers," but said they did not actually do so.

He went on: "They actually built submarines in 1956. They had the capability to continue, but what did they do? They got a large number of submarines and then they stopped and they went into new production, but their new production is much less."

"They will build submarines at some lesser rate to replace probably the submarines they now have and keep their submarine force about level. You can get a capability on a crash program and be completely misled."

Meanwhile, a sharp disagreement between the Army and the Defense Department over the adequacy of emergency aircraft facilities was brought into the open today by the House Appropriations committee.

It included: 1. An assertion by Army Chief of Staff General L. L. Lemnitzer that the Defense Department is "woefully and hopelessly unprepared" for the type of emergency aircraft it might require.

2. A charge by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker that Gen. Lemnitzer "is not getting all the cooperation he ought to get" from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

3. A statement by Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

Skidding Car Strikes Tree

George F. King, 36, Route 1, Circleville, suffered fractured ribs, contusions and shock in a one-car accident on Route 159 about 14 miles southeast of here at 11:30 p. m. Saturday.

King was taken to Berghs Hospital. Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey said his car skidded off the road and struck a tree.

The injured driver said he was traveling north, struck a slippery spot in the road and veered into the tree.

Deputy Felkey said the front and left side of the auto was demolished.

Ohio Weekend Accidents Take Total of 11 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vehicle mishaps took 10 lives and fire one in Ohio for a reported accidental death total of 11 during the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

The only accident in which more than one person died came near Ashland, where two Ashland men died as their car swerved off the road and hit some trees.

The fatalities: Friday Night Joseph Kennedy, about 50, Columbus, struck by a car on a county road south of Columbus. Saturday Mrs. Marguerite Rendlesham, 52, Cleveland Heights, burned to death in a fire at her home. George Twidale, 36, Cincinnati, a passenger thrown out of an auto which collided with another car in Cincinnati.

committee, that lack of an adequate airlift "is one of the weakest links in our defense chain."

The airlift controversy was aired by the committee during recent closed-door hearings on the 1961 defense budget. A censored transcript was made public today.

Lemnitzer disagreed with a statement by Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff of the Air Force, that the airlift now available "meets the criteria established by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Bob White and Lemnitzer are members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Unions Study Inner Wars

AFL-CIO Chiefs Gather for Parley

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The intra-union wars that have plagued organized labor for a half century still are a long way from being solved.

That appeared clear today as AFL-CIO chiefs gathered for a winter meeting. Labor's role in this year's national political campaign and the perennial problem of interunion rivalry topped the agenda.

Al J. Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, worked out a plan that would require affiliated AFL-CIO unions to submit any squabble with fellow unions to binding arbitration—or decisions of neutrals.

Influential AFL-CIO colleagues, however, have ticketed the Hayes plan for a side track. They maintain it is premature and needs more study.

So far as presidential politics are concerned the AFL-CIO chiefs seem divided in support among three senators whose names have figured in speculation for the Democratic nomination.

The three are Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Stuart Symington of Missouri. However, no decision on AFL-CIO support is expected this early.

Lack of enthusiasm for the Hayes plan as a formula for settling job rights and jurisdictional disputes did not indicate lack of progress in this field. In the four years since the AFL-CIO merger considerable action has been taken.

The federation has established an umpire system for deciding interunion controversies. The trouble is that these decisions in several cases have been snubbed by the losers.

Archie W. Goodman, 77, Rome, N. Y., struck by an auto on U.S. 20, five miles east of Painesville, and smashed against his own parked car after he walked to the back of it apparently to check on something.

Mrs. Virginia Kemper, 19, Dayton, crushed to death when thrown from a car which hit a curb in Dayton and rolled over on its side, pinning her against the pavement.

Sunday William McDermott, 18, Cleveland, of injuries received Saturday night when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a parked tractor-trailer truck in Cleveland.

Louis T. Walden, 52, Cleveland, when his car collided with a tractor-trailer truck in East lake (Lake County).

Edward R. Watson, 21, and Robert E. Hofer, 21, both of Ashland, when their car swerved off Ohio 96 and hit four trees, 2½ miles west of Ashland.

'Favorite Son' Squabble Boils

Cuyahoga Engineer Said Violating Law

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen today he was not about to resign at the suggestion of Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer and favorite son of a slate of Democratic national convention delegate candidates opposing a DiSalle slate in the May 3 primary.

Porter, also a candidate for renomination as county engineer, challenged DiSalle's assertion that Porter could not legally run for reelection and as a favorite son candidate for president at the same time. Porter asserted DiSalle is in the same boat.

But the governor gave this explanation of the difference: "The restriction in Ohio is that a man cannot be a candidate for two incompatible offices at the same primary. I am only a candidate for one; Porter is a candidate for two in a clear violation of the law."

He reiterated a belief that state senators who are candidates for election to other offices should resign.

Resignations would permit special election to fill those vacancies at the same time as regular elections at a big savings to taxpayers, he said. An estimate of the cost of special elections at other times is being made. DiSalle termed the cost of special elections in Cuyahoga County prohibitive.

One state senator has resigned and a special primary has been called to coincide with the May 3 election but three other senators are seeking other offices without resigning.

They are Sens. Ray T. Miller Jr. and Julius J. Petrash, both Cleveland Democrats running for Cuyahoga County commissioner, and Fred T. Harter of Akron, Democrat running for Summit County commissioner.

Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum) resigned to run for Congress in the 15th Congressional District of southeastern Ohio.

DiSalle observed that statute provides for the lieutenant governor to take over in event of a gubernatorial vacancy without expense to taxpayers.

"Even if I were elected to another position, the law provides for the filling of the vacancy by the lieutenant governor at no cost to the people," DiSalle said.

"But in the case of state senators, should they be nominated in the primary for another office and then resign from the Senate, it would require a special primary to fill the vacancy and in Cuyahoga County the cost would be almost prohibitive."

DiSalle pointed out that he still could call special primary elections in April to coincide with the regular May primary if resignations came in time.

The governor took exception to published statements of a Mental Hygiene Department publicist that criticism of the bi-monthly magazine "Motive" is political.

DiSalle asked that William O. French put in writing his reasons for the claim. The governor last week said the magazine cut publication to every other month in a drive to curb state publications but had boosted its circulation. A cabinet committee is looking into the publication problem.

Farmers Rap Ike For New Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Joseph W. Fichter of the Ohio Farmers Union protested today the omission of a representative of agriculture on President Eisenhower's 11-member commission for national goals.

Membership of the commission and an outline of its task was announced by the White House Saturday. It was directed to develop a broad outline of coordinated national policies and programs for the next decade or longer.

Fichter said the failure to give agriculture representation "is an example of the manner in which the farmer has long been ignored."

11-Ounce Baby Dies

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—An 11½-ounce baby claimed to be the smallest ever born alive died early this morning about 28 hours after his birth. The child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Morris C. Vermellen of Des Moines at 11:22 p. m. Saturday.

2 Sites OK'd For New Ohio Mental Clinics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sites for 500-bed hospitals in Warrensville Heights and Akron were announced today by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Director Robert A. Haines told Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that about 90 acres on Green Road, now owned by the city of Cleveland, are available for the Warrensville Heights hospital.

The Akron site of about 50 acres is on Romig Road.

Dr. Haines said a department committee still is looking for a third hospital at the western edge of Cuyahoga County. He said township restrictions are making it difficult to find an adequate third site.

Three 500-bed hospitals at separate sites were decided upon instead of a previously planned 1,500-bed institution at one site. Gov. DiSalle said this would provide better service for the Cuyahoga-Summit-Lorain county area.

The department committee and state architect Carl Bentz recommended three sites last week, but Haines said at that time that one of the sites was not satisfactory. He did not say which one.

Chessman Loses New Bid for Life

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Convict-author Caryl Chessman today was denied a stay of execution, scheduled Feb. 19 in the San Quentin prison gas chamber.

Judge Richard Chambers, chief justice of the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, also refused to issue a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

This would have granted Chessman a hearing before the full Court of Appeals in an effort to reverse U.S. District Judge Louis E. Goodman's refusal to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

Chessman now is expected to appeal again to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has considered the case 13 times.

Should this effort fail, an appeal for clemency probably will be made to California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Chessman was sentenced to death in 1948 on charges of kidnapping, robbery and perverted sexual assaults against two young women. He has been in death row for nearly 12 years and has escaped seven earlier execution dates through various legal moves.

Judge Chambers is not an unknown figure in Central Ohio. He married Mary Martin, native of Pickaway County, and both visit Circleville frequently. Mrs. Chambers owns two farms in western Pickaway County and consults with Attorney Charles H. May, dean of Circleville lawyers.

Ohio Chiropractors Name New Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U. R. Desenberg of Mansfield is the new president of the Ohio Assn. for Chiropractic Education.

He was elected Sunday to head the group's board of directors. Other board officers are Dr. Arthur Nagode of Cleveland, vice president, and Mrs. Irene Martin of Attica, secretary-treasurer.

The other three board members are Dr. Earl Morris of Delphos, Dr. C. O. Tanner of Mansfield and Dr. Robert Allison of Canton.

The board authorized granting charters of affiliation to chapters in Attica, Toledo, Greenville, Wooster and Jenera.

Purpose of the organization is to educate its members and the public about the principles and practices of chiropractic.

Soviet Sub Fleet Said Grave Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke says the Soviet Union has cut down on submarine production, but the Soviet submersible fleet poses "one of the gravest military threats we face."

It is known that some Soviet submarines can fire missiles, the chief of naval operations told a House Appropriations subcommittee today, but he said the Soviet threat extends both to sea communications and to U.S. cities.

Burke's testimony also supported current U.S. intelligence estimates based on Soviet intentions as well as Soviet maximum capabilities.

"We have made gross errors in the past by using the old system," he said.

Burke cited what he said were estimates that the Soviets could build "hundreds and hundreds of long-range bombers," but said they did not actually do so.

He went on: "They actually built submarines in 1956. They had the capability to continue, but what did they do? They got a large number of submarines and then they stopped and they went into new production, but their new production is much less."

"They will build submarines at some lesser rate to replace probably the submarines they now have and keep their submarine force about level. You can get a capability on a crash program and be completely misled."

Meanwhile, a sharp disagreement between the Army and the Defense Department over the adequacy of emergency airlift facilities was brought into the open today by the House Appropriations committee.

It included:

1. An assertion by Army Chief of Staff General L. L. Lemnitzer that the Defense Department is "woefully and hopelessly unprepared" for the type of emergency airlift it might require.

2. A charge by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker that Gen. Lemnitzer "is not getting all the cooperation he ought to get" from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

3. A statement by Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee, that lack of an adequate airlift "is one of the weakest links in our defense chain."

The airlift controversy was aired by the committee during recent closed-door hearings on the 1961 defense budget. A censored transcript was made public today.

Lemnitzer disagreed with a statement by Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff of the Air Force, that the airlift now available "meets the criteria established by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Bob White and Lemnitzer are members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Unions Study Inner Wars

AFL-CIO Chiefs Gather for Parley

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The intramural wars that have plagued organized labor for a half century still are a long way from being solved.

That appeared clear today as AFL-CIO chiefs gathered for a winter meeting. Labor's role in this year's national political campaign and the perennial problem of interunion rivalry topped the agenda.

Al J. Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, worked out a plan that would require affiliated AFL-CIO unions to submit any squabble with fellow unions to binding arbitration—or decisions of neutrals.

Influential AFL-CIO colleagues, however, have ticked the Hayes plan for a side track. They maintain it is premature and needs more study.

So far as presidential politics are concerned the AFL-CIO chiefs seem divided in support among three senators whose names have figured in speculation for the Democratic nomination.

The three are Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Stuart Symington of Missouri. However, no decision on AFL-CIO support is expected this early.

Lack of enthusiasm for the Hayes plan as a formula for settling job rights and jurisdictional disputes did not indicate lack of progress in this field. In the four years since the AFL-CIO merger considerable action has been taken.

The federation has established an umpire system for deciding interunion controversies. The trouble is that these decisions in several cases have been snubbed by the losers.

Lockbourne Bids Asked

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Bids will be opened March 16 to construct additional navigation aids a Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio. The U.S. Engineers, Huntington District, estimate the cost at about $25,000.

Ohio Weekend Accidents Take Total of 11 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vehicle mishaps took 10 lives and fire one in Ohio for a reported accidental death total of 11 during the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

The only accident in which more than one person died came near Ashland, where two Ashland men died as their car swerved off the road and hit some trees.

The fatalities:

Friday Night
Joseph Kennedy, about 50, Columbus, struck by a car on a county road south of Columbus.

Saturday
Mrs. Marguerite Rendlesham, 52, Cleveland Heights, burned to death in a fire at her home.

George Twidale, 36, Cincinnati, a passenger thrown out of an auto which collided with another car in Cincinnati.

Roy F. Kieth, 59, Rt. 2, Lexington, when his car ran off a dead-end street and struck a tree in Mansfield.

Verdon Worth, 16, Colebrook, thrown out of an auto in which he was riding after it collided with another car at the intersection of Ohio 46 and an Ashtabula County road.

Archie W. Goodman, 77, Rome, N. Y., struck by an auto on U.S. 20, five miles east of Painesville, and smashed against his own parked car after he walked to the back of it apparently to check on something.

Mrs. Virginia Kemper, 19, Dayton, crushed to death when thrown from a car which hit a curb in Dayton and rolled over on its side, pinning her against the pavement.

Sunday
William McDermott, 18, Cleveland, of injuries received Saturday night when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a parked tractor-trailer truck in Cleveland.

Louis T. Walden, 52, Cleveland, when his car collided with a tractor-trailer truck in East lake (Lake County).

Edward R. Watson, 21, and Robert E. Hofer, 21, both of Ashland, when their car swerved off Ohio 96 and hit four trees, 2½ miles west of Ashland.

'Favorite Son' Squabble Boils

Cuyahoga Engineer Said Violating Law

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen today he was not about to resign at the suggestion of Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer and favorite son of a slate of Democratic national convention delegate candidates opposing a DiSalle slate in the May 3 primary.

Porter, also a candidate for re-nomination as county engineer, challenged DiSalle's assertion that Porter could not legally run for reelection and as a favorite son candidate for president at the same time. Porter asserted DiSalle is in the same boat.

But the governor gave this explanation of the difference:

"The restriction in Ohio is that a man cannot be a candidate for two incompatible offices at the same primary. I am only a candidate for one; Porter is a candidate for two in a clear violation of the law."

He reiterated a belief that state senators who are candidates for election to other offices should resign.

Resignations would permit special election to fill those vacancies at the same time as regular elections at a big savings to taxpayers, he said. An estimate of the cost of special elections at other times is being made. DiSalle termed the cost of special elections in Cuyahoga County prohibitive.

One state senator has resigned and a special primary has been called to coincide with the May 3 election but three other senators are seeking other offices without resigning.

They are Sens. Ray T. Miller Jr. and Julius J. Petrash, both Cleveland Democrats running for Cuyahoga County commissioner, and Fred T. Harter of Akron, Democrat running for Summit County commissioner.

Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum) resigned to run for Congress in the 15th Congressional District of southeastern Ohio.

DiSalle observed that statute provides for the lieutenant governor to take over in event of a gubernatorial vacancy without expense to taxpayers.

"Even if I were elected to another position, the law provides for the filling of the vacancy by the lieutenant governor at no cost to the people," DiSalle said.

"But in the case of state senators, should they be nominated in the primary for another office and then resign from the Senate, it would require a special primary to fill the vacancy and in Cuyahoga County the cost would be almost prohibitive."

DiSalle pointed out that he still could call special primary elections in April to coincide with the regular May primary if resignations came in time.

The governor took exception to published statements of a Mental Hygiene Department publicist that criticism of the bi-monthly magazine "Motive" is political.

DiSalle asked that William O. French put in writing his reasons for the claim. The governor last week said the magazine cut publication to every other month in a drive to curb state publications but had boosted its circulation. A Cabinet committee is looking into the publication problem.

Farmers Rap Ike For New Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Joseph W. Fichter of the Ohio Farmers Union protested today the omission of a representative of agriculture on President Eisenhower's 11-member commission for national goals.

Membership of the commission and an outline of its task was announced by the White House Saturday. It was directed to develop a broad outline of coordinated national policies and programs for the next decade or longer.

Fichter said the failure to give agriculture representation "is an example of the manner in which the farmer has long been ignored."

11-Ounce Baby Dies

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—An 11½-ounce baby claimed to be the smallest ever born alive died early this morning about 28 hours after his birth. The child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Morris C. Vermellen of Des Moines at 11:22 p. m. Saturday.

2 Sites OKd For New Ohio Mental Clinics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sites for 500-bed hospitals in Warrensville Heights and Akron were announced today by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Director Robert A. Haines told Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that about 90 acres on Green Road, now owned by the city of Cleveland, are available for the Warrensville Heights hospital.

The Akron site of about 50 acres is on Romig Road.

Dr. Haines said a department committee still is looking for a third hospital at the western edge of Cuyahoga County. He said township restrictions are making it difficult to find an adequate third site.

Three 500-bed hospitals at separate sites were decided upon instead of a previously-planned 1,500-bed institution at one site. Gov. DiSalle said this would provide better service for the Cuyahoga-Summit-Lorain county area.

The architect Carl Bentz recommended three sites last week, but Haines said at that time that one of the sites was not satisfactory. He did not say which one.

Ike Needs Nearly Billion In Extra Operation Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an extra 950 million dollars in appropriations for the present fiscal year ending June 30.

Most of it is for the executive branch, the bulk of it for mandatory expenses such as grants to states, ship operating subsidies and costs of the Commodity Credit Corp. There also are some unforeseen expenses such as those to repair damage caused by an earthquake in Yellowstone National Park.

The White House said the request was taken into account in the latest budget revision.

For the 1961 fiscal year, beginning July 1, Eisenhower proposed today a cut of 66½ million dollars for the Veterans Administration.

The White House said this reflects a reduction from 225,000 to 200,000 in the average number of educational trainees under the GI Bill of Rights, plus a small reduction in general operational expenditures.

Eisenhower formally submitted a request for an extra 113 million dollars for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the 1961 fiscal year, chiefly to push the Saturn project to develop high thrust booster rockets.

The decision to increase Saturn funds had been announced previously.

Educational TV Beamed into Ohio

In the fall of 1960 a DC7 airplane, flying in a circle over Ft. Wayne, Ind. from 20,000 to 25,000 feet, will relay educational television programs originating at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Beamed from this altitude, the telecast will bring educational TV into sections of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

It is estimated that five million school children and many more adults, now beyond the reach of ground educational TV stations, will benefit from this $7 million dollar experiment financed by the Ford Foundation.

PALACE AWAITS ROYAL BIRTH — As Queen Elizabeth calmly awaits the birth of her third child, the other members of the royal household prepare Buckingham Palace for the coming of the new royal baby. Numbers point to that part of Buckingham Palace which will be most vitally concerned in the birth of Queen Elizabeth's third child. (1) This is where the baby will be born in the bedroom of the Belgian Suite on the ground floor. (2) After the baby's birth the Queen will be moved into her own bedroom. (3) The nurseries are up a flight of stairs and 150 paces away from the Queen's bedroom. Prince Charles' bedroom has been converted into a night nursery for the new baby, and the prince has been given his own "bachelor suite" nearby. (4) Sister Helen Rowe will have a bedroom near the Queen's private apartments. It will be her job to carry the baby to and from the Queen's bedroom and the nurseries. (5) The bulletin, signed by the Queen's doctors, will probably be prepared here. (6) It is from this room that the first news of the baby's birth will reach the outside world. (7) The royal doctors will come and go by this entrance.

Kids, Matches Blamed for Cleveland Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Children playing with matches in a fifth-floor apartment closet were blamed by authorities for starting a fire Sunday which caused all this:

Forced 87 persons, including 30 children, from 34 suites in the Roseheer Apartments at 3756 W. 25th St. Some of the evacuees were barefoot and in night clothes when they hurried down fire escapes about 9:45 a. m. in sub-freezing cold.

Caused damage estimated by Asst. Fire Chief David R. Grant at $75,000 or more, to the five-story brick and frame building, and $25,000 to contents, including water damage to stores on the street floor.

Kept up to 80 firemen busy an hour and a half to bring under control flames whipped by a 28 m.p.h. wind.

Detoured traffic for five hours. Five Cruiser loads of police were needed to handle the jamup. West 25th St. at this point is also U.S. 42 and Ohio 3.

Caused the Red Cross to set up emergency headquarters in nearby Archwood Congregational Church where they served 300 meals and made arrangements to lodge homeless families.

Grant said some of the apartment suites might be habitable again late this week after utilities are repaired.

Ike Needs Nearly Billion In Extra Operation Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an extra $500 million of dollars in appropriations for the present fiscal year ending June 30.

Most of it is for the executive branch, the bulk of it for mandatory expenses such as grants to states, ship operating subsidies and costs of the Commodity Credit Corp. There also are some unforeseen expenses such as those to repair damage caused by an earthquake in Yellowstone National Park.

The White House said the request was taken into account in the latest budget revision.

For the 1961 fiscal year, beginning July 1, Eisenhower proposed today a cut of 66 2/3 million dollars for the Veterans Administration.

The White House said this reflects a reduction from 225,000 to 200,000 in the average number of educational trainees under the GI Bill of Rights, plus a small reduction in general operational expenditures.

Eisenhower formally submitted a request for an extra $1.1 billion dollars for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the 1961 fiscal year, chiefly to push the Saturn project to develop high thrust booster rockets.

The decision to increase Saturn funds had been announced previously.

Stock Mart Prices Slump Sharply Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market slumped sharply in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks dropped from fractions to 2 or 3 points.

Some of the higher-priced issues were down 6 or 8 points.

Steels, motors, chemicals, oils, coppers, electronics and rails were among the losers.

Among high-priced blue chips, DuPont dropped about 8 and International Business Machines a half dozen points.

Losses running to a point or more were scattered through most major groups although farm implements posted small gains, airlines were narrowly mixed and tobacco took only moderate losses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.10 to 215.20 with the Industrials down 3.80, the rails down 1.40 and the utilities down .30.

U.S. government bonds were higher.

Hay Said Missing

Arthur Grover, Route 1, Williamsport, informed the sheriff's department yesterday that about 12 bales of hay were taken from a rick near his home.

Lepers Aid Evangelist

Billy Graham Moved By 'Nicest Offering'

KADUNA, Nigeria (AP)—Billy Graham has received what he calls "the nicest offering to Christ I have ever known" — two African pound notes from a leper.

An elderly resident of the Al-barka leper colony presented the money to the evangelist during a visit Friday.

Miss Phoebe Lewsey, a British missionary who operates the colony, said the donation to the Graham crusade represented months of saving by the lepers.

The evangelist, deeply touched, thanked the donors through an interpreter and warmly shook hands.

Graham earlier flew to Kotsa-gora to dedicate a Baptist hospital costing $1176,000. The money was supplied by the Southern Baptist Convention of America.

Dr. J. E. Low of Commerce, Tex., will head the staff.

Graham said the hospital "will be open to all people regardless of race, color or creed."

Returning to Kaduna, he met briefly with the Sardauna of Sokoto, the leader of 18 million Nigerians in the country's northern region. The population is predominantly Moslem.

The Sardauna told Graham that "some missionaries engage too much in politics and poke their noses in the wrong places. I am dedicated to Allah (God) and must do as he dictates."

Graham explained his missionary work and said Christ is directing me.

In New York, a spokesman for pretty socialite Eleanor Searle Whitney said she is flying to Africa to assist Graham, probably on his music staff. Mrs. Whitney, divorced wife of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, was a choir soloist in her native Dover, Ohio. She became interested in Graham's work during his 1957 New York crusade.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Temperatures were below freezing throughout the state this morning but they are expected to rise rapidly to reach 40 or higher by this afternoon.

Cincinnati and Dayton reported the lowest temperatures, with readings of 24. Cleveland had 27, Toledo 29, Columbus 28.

The snow which fell on Sunday left the ground covered with an average of one to two inches over the southern half of the state.

The morning weather map showed a low pressure area over western Lake Superior, while a cold front trails off to the southwest from the low. The low and cold front will travel eastward and as they move beyond Ohio early Tuesday winds will become northerly to bring a return of colder weather.

The cold northwest winds are expected to produce more snow flurries near Lake Erie on Tuesday.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

Temperatures are expected to average near normal. Normal high 35 north to 41 south, normal low 19-24. Colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday, then turning colder Saturday. Snow flurries likely each day near Lake Erie with only a few scattered snow flurries indicated for other sections of the state.

Auto, Steel, Retail Sales Dip but Optimism Is High

NEW YORK (AP)—Automobile and steel production and retail sales dipped last week but confidence that 1960 will be a good business year held strong.

The stock market had its ups and downs. Some observers said a major worry was over failure of new car sales to show as big an increase as expected.

Retail auto sales picked up slightly in the final third of January, when 173,000 new U.S.-built cars were delivered. Nevertheless, the industry cut output this week to an estimated 166,000, the lowest of the new year, from 173,231 last week. A strike at a Chevrolet engine plant was reflected in the figures.

Chrysler President L. L. Colbert said he still expects the industry to sell seven million cars this year but added that "sales are going to have to explode sometime this spring to do it."

A surprise entry in the highly competitive small car field loomed when a New York dealer contracted to import 10,000 Russian-made cars.

The steel industry kept its eyes on automobile sales as the major indicator of what its own business is going to be in the second quarter of this year. It was certain production would run at a high level through the first quarter. But with inventories quickly being built up in other industries, the auto makers hold the answer.

Production this week was estimated at 2,687,000 tons, down from 2,717,000 last week.

One producer predicted output would drop to 70 per cent of capacity from the current 94 per cent by the third quarter.

Retail trade finally quit its steady climb, slipping back from last week's volume but remaining slightly ahead of a year ago. Poor weather in some areas and an end to clearance sales were blamed.

On the New York Stock Exchange volume was 14,075,209 shares compared with 14,005,490 the previous week. Bond sales volume was $29,179,000 par value compared with $28,494,000.

Buyers got some good news when wholesale food prices dropped sharply. The Dun & Bradstreet index — representing the total cost of one pound each of 31 foods in general use — stood at $5.76, down from $5.90 last week and $6.19 a year ago.

Another welcome development was agreement by the railroad industry and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to submit their wage dispute to binding arbitration. This wiped out the prospect of a strike.

In Washington, Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller said business got off to a good start in January and that the country is enjoying "good, steady, consistent growth."

Economists appearing before the congressional Joint Economic Committee agreed with President Eisenhower's estimate that national production will increase to 510 billion dollars from 1959's 478 billion.

Briefly around the business scene: Heavy construction contract awards this week climbed to $377,400,000 from $245,200,000 last week. Directors of 145 companies voted higher dividends in January; in January 1959 the number was 101. Movie attendance so far this year is running 10 per cent ahead of a year ago.

Petro Merchandising Co. of Linden, N.J., is producing prefabricated gasoline stations which can be in operation 48 hours after materials are unloaded. Jonathan Logan Co. of New York became the first dress manufacturer to have its stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Dow Chemical Co. formed an Italian unit and undergo to build a multimillion-dollar plant in Milan.

Cancer Society Chiefs Map Plans for Crusade in April

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 700 volunteer workers of the American Cancer Society met here Saturday to map plans for their crusade in April.

Dr. Morton L. Levin, professor of cancer epidemiology at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., told the volunteers that important commercial interests sometimes attempt to keep from the public the findings of research done on the causes of cancer.

Dr. Levin said, "the situation with respect to cigarettes and the use of chemical additives in our food supply are two examples."

"It is important that we have a strong national society whose interest is the prevention and control of cancer, to act as a counterbalance to those special interest groups which may be in conflict with the findings of cancer research."

He suggested that a voluntary health foundation, such as the American Cancer Society, use the mass media of advertising to "publicize what we know about the cancer hazard of cigarette smoking."

The convention also heard Dr. Charles A. Doan, dean of the Ohio State Medical School, say that "because cancer cells may act like microbes which cause other diseases, development of a vaccine to prevent cancer was, and still is, seen as one of the great potentials of science."

He said researchers from the Ohio State Medical Center, and scientists from the Sloan-Kettering Institute in New York city have been studying how cancer patients and volunteers who do not have cancer react to live cancer cells injected under the skin.

"Results of these experiments showed that cancer cells do behave like bacteria, mobilizing the body's defenses and apparently producing anti-bodies which reject the cancer cells."

The volunteers also heard Dr. Harvey E. Konerschild, resident in surgery at University Hospital here, describe a new method of detecting hard-to-diagnose cancer cells. He said "the method is the best hope of lowering the death rate from certain cancers" because it will enable the scientist to discover the cancer early enough to permit surgery.

Doctors say unexpected births are known, but extremely rare.

Weekend Exercise Can Be Very Deadly

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You can't catch up on the exercise you missed all week by killing yourself with activity over the weekend.

Because that's just what you'll be doing — killing yourself — says Dr. George C. Griffith, University of Southern California professor of medicine and heart specialist.

Excessive weekend exercise is the "acceptable American way of committing suicide," he told a businessmen's luncheon Wednesday. To avoid heart stress, he said, businessmen should get moderate exercise every day — "even if it's only 15 minutes of calisthenics or a walk."

Some members of Congress are discussing what would happen in the event of a nuclear attack on Washington. Chief concern has been manifested by the Senate, where a decimated membership could be reconstituted quickly through appointments by governors.

The Senate has passed two resolutions to update the Constitution, but the House, where vacancies must be filled by special elections, has done nothing.

Legislation approved by the Senate in 1954 and 1955, and being considered again, would permit governors to fill vacancies in the House by appointment if more than half its members became casualties. It is a frightening possibility, however remote, but it has been acknowledged by responsible persons in government, and appropriate action has been urged.

The House could probably find a way to function without a majority of its members, and no doubt the chief executive could act temporarily in the national interest without legislative sanction. The Senate hopes, however, the House will be interested enough this year to help plug a loophole in the Constitution.

After that maybe Congress would consider better ways to round up absentees and assemble quorums on the peacetime days when the Capitol seems virtually all clear of Congressmen.

Hoover Skeptic on Visitors

Twelve regional officials of the Soviet Union are on an eight-state tour of the U. S.

There is one thing in the exchange of visits that should be kept in mind, however. The crux of it is in J. Edgar Hoover's report to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee on the effect of Khrushchev's visit last fall. "It has done much to create among Americans an atmosphere favorable to communism," said the FBI director.

Mr. Hoover says that as a result of Mr. Khrushchev's tour, every action of the American communist party's national convention last month in New York, "was designed to make the party a hard-hitting, versatile and mobile weapon of attack against our form of government."

President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to the Soviet Union isn't likely to have a similar effect there. His visit will have only one purpose: To promote peace through better understanding and improved relations.

There are no American-directed subversives in Russia dedicated to the overthrow of its government.

Let Cubans Sink or Swim

Manuel Pozo of Havana, Cuba, writes:

"...United States is not subsidizing Cuba by paying higher prices for Cuban sugar. If anybody is being helped by this, it is the American beet croppers. It is to protect them that sugar prices are higher in the American market. In other words, sugar producers of the United States must sell at prices above the world market in order to adjust to the American standard of living."

"That is why Cuban sugar sells also at higher prices in the American market: because those prices respond to a national need over there, and not because United States is graciously subsidizing Cuba. So it happens with all foreign sugar that is sold over there."

This paragraph raises several important questions. It is a typical Cuban point of view. It is also what one hears in many countries about American aid, namely, that it has made many rich men richer but that it has not reached down to the people. This is a broad subject that ought to be studied objectively without regard to partisan politics. The criticism will undoubtedly be found to have ample justification, particularly in such countries as Italy.

The United States does pay a premium price for Cuban sugar. The subsidy goes to whosoever owns the sugar. Some of it goes to American growers and Ameri can sugar companies; some of it goes to Cubans. The two cents a pound subsidy should be abolished whether American or Cuban companies are concerned. There can be no reason why this subsidy should be continued. There can be no justification for it.

What Pozo claims is the reason we pay two cents a pound subsidy to Cuba is not to aid Cuba but to maintain a higher price for American sugar beet raisers. This happens not to be correct; actually it represents an ingratitude, a failure to understand Cuban-American relations. As far back as 1902, the United States, by treaty, gave Cuba a 20 per cent tariff differential on commodities not on the free list. This was done to aid Cuban industry to establish itself.

Lack of gratitude for American assistance and aid is not unusual; it is universal. The reason is that our generosity is not adequately explained to the people of any country. It is government-to-government aid. Often, it is American aid which is used to keep unpopular governments in power.

The people, rather than appreciating what is being done for them, resent American aid as an interference in their internal affairs. That is why so many countries want aid "without strings attached." Soviet aid is accepted but there are always invisible strings attached.

Pozo has another paragraph: "...you should also understand that, while the world production regime remains as it is now, United States needs to buy Cuban sugar. It cannot secure it, in the amounts required and at the time needed anywhere else. Therefore, United States has to buy sugar from Cuba at the higher prices set for its own croppers. It would be disastrous for its industries and workers that depend on sugar supplies, if it did not do so. They would lack the sugar that makes them run. Thus, United States' economy would be hurt."

A PRETTY YOUNG MISS at a hotel cocktail bar spotted one of those rangy Texans, obviously a millionaire, and engaged him in what she hoped would prove a rewarding conversation.

"A millionaire, I'll bet," she grinned.

"Right nice of you to mention it, ma'am," he drawled. "A millionaire — and how."

"Oil or cattle, I suppose."

"You drew a blank that time, Missy."

"Real estate then."

"On the nose, Missy. I do own 37 acres."

The young lady's face fell a bit. "That doesn't sound like too much in those wide open spaces," she sniffed. "What do you call your place?"

The Texan answered quietly, "Downtown Dallas."

Liquor Den Is Raided By Agents in Urbana

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — State liquor agents raided an illegal liquor den here early Sunday, confiscating two slot machines, 40 cases of beer, 20 bottles of liquor and an amount of cash. Three persons were arrested and 20 others who were found hiding in a beer cooler were released after agents, using sledge hammers and axes, chopped their way into the place, called the Veterans Club.

Meanwhile, liquor agents raided five suspected bootleg spots in Springfield and arrested seven persons there. Charges against those taken into custody were illegal sales or keeping places where liquor is sold illegally.

The reason he can get so much legislation through the Senate with a minimum of brawls and nosebleeds is that he is a master of detail who knows exactly how many votes he can count on before he moves.

There is one other factor in his smooth operation there. Like President Eisenhower, he seems committed to the belief that name-calling is a hindrance in getting what he wants. It just creates enemies and opposition.

But until this weekend Johnson was like a man working out quietly in a political gymnasium to build up his muscles. While he denied he was a candidate, his supporters were busy bees, trying to line up support.

Then, suddenly, Johnson apparently thought his muscles were strong. He stopped being completely coy about his candidacy.

Last Friday in New Mexico he was still being quoted as saying he would not seek the nomination.

Then on Saturday night in Indianapolis he told reporters he expects to be chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic convention "and I hope it will be committed to the support of my candidacy."

So he finally came out with it, to the surprise of nobody. The only question about this was when he'd admit it.

There's good reason to believe that Johnson will try to build up in this session of Congress a record of legislation that will offset some of the Northern liberals' opposition to him as a conservative and Southerner.

The evidence is in the almost astonishing performance of the Senate in the past week.

Within a couple of days the Senate approved two highly controversial issues—a federal aid to education bill and an anti-poll tax amendment to the Constitution—with hardly a murmur.

In times past neither one of those issues would have produced weeks of debate and, in the case of the anti-poll tax amendment, probably a Southern filibuster. This year a Southerner introduced the amendment.

Johnson, however, is faced with an almost magical tightrope act: how can he get through legislation that won't turn the Southerners against him and will still please the Northern liberals?

This paragraph raises several important questions. It is a typical Cuban point of view. It is also what one hears in many countries about American aid, namely, that it has made many rich men richer but that it has not reached down to the people. This is a broad subject that ought to be studied objectively without regard to partisan politics. The criticism will undoubtedly be found to have ample justification, particularly in such countries as Italy.

The United States does pay a premium price for Cuban sugar. The subsidy goes to whoever owns the sugar. Some of it goes to American growers and American sugar companies; some of it goes to Cubans. The two cents a pound subsidy should be abolished whether American or Cuban companies are concerned. There can be no reason why this subsidy should be continued. There can be no justification for it.

What Pozo claims is the reason we pay two cents a pound subsidy to Cuba is not to aid Cuba but to maintain a higher price for American sugar beet raisers. This happens not to be correct; actually it represents an ingratitude, a failure to understand Cuban-American relations. As far back as 1902, the United States, by treaty, gave Cuba a 20 percent tariff differential on commodities not on the free list. This was done to aid Cuban industry to establish itself.

Lack of gratitude for American assistance and aid is not unusual; it is universal. The reason is that our generosity is not adequately explained to the people of any country. It is government-to-government aid. Often, it is American aid which is used to keep unpopular governments in power.

The people, rather than appreciating what is being done for them, resent American aid as an interference in their internal affairs. That is why so many countries want aid "without strings attached." Soviet aid is accepted but there are always invisible strings attached.

Pozo has another paragraph: "...you should also understand that, while the world production regime remains as it is now, United States needs to buy Cuban sugar. It cannot secure it, in the amounts required and at the time needed anywhere else. Therefore, United States has to buy sugar from Cuba at the higher prices set for its own croppers. It would be disastrous for its industries and workers that depend on sugar supplies, if it did not do so. They would lack the sugar that makes them run. Thus, United States' economy would be hurt."

European refugees, who frolic in this country, insist upon it. The idea is that the United States aids countries not to help them but to support the American economy; that the United States must provide economic aid or go under.

It is about time that this country set out to dispel this idea. Our generosity, which has cost the American taxpayer more than $100,000,000,000 is charity. The American taxpayer pays for it as charity. Any other interpretation is untenable.

If an example were made of Cuba, it would be generally advantageous. The question is: Can Cuba live without the American purchase of Cuban sugar or can the United States survive without Cuban sugar? That is the question which Manuel Pozo asks and it is a question that ought to be answered by a practical demonstration.

An immediate act of Congress withdrawing from Cuba all economic advantages so far provided by the United States would prove to the world that when we are generous to a nation, we do it out of the goodness of our heart, not for economic advantage.

Stock Market Trend Depends On Your Views

Current Prices Are Compared to Rates of Year Ago

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — How you look at the stock market can set your idea of what's happening to it.

That is, it can be what's happening to the stock or stocks you own. Or you can be lofter about it and discuss what's happening to your favorite stock price index.

Each of these has tumbled since the first of the year. But each of necessity has had to be weighted over the years by the stock splits and stock dividends and the omissions and additions that a changing economy has dictated. So their current stocks are quite different from the ones that were in the original index when it started years ago.

And the index figure definitely isn't the average price of the stocks as now listed on the exchange.

So for the fun of it, let's look at what has happened to recent day stock prices since the first of the year.

And let's take the Associated Press price index of 60 stocks—NOT the index figure itself, which has had to be adjusted from time to time, but the actual 60 stocks that are in it.

They are pretty representative of the stock market as a whole, although mostly they are blue chips with a few glamorous newcomers to popularity.

Studying the blue chips could be more significant than wondering about the ups and downs of the mercurial glamor ones. The blue chips tend to be put away in strong boxes and taken out only for a good, nonspeculative, reason.

If you had had $3,599 on New Year's Eve, you could have bought one each of the 60 stocks included in the AP index. If you had sold all 60 of them last week, you would have got $3,337 for them.

Here, too, stock splits being what they are, an adjustment should be made. One of the stocks, Westinghouse, was split two for one since the first of the year. Technically, you would have 61 stocks worth about $3,357.

Most of the drop in prices came in the 30 stocks that make up the industrial component of the index. Their combined market value dropped from $2,308 to $2,063 in the first five weeks of 1960.

The 15 rails put up a better showing. They would have cost you $517 at the start of the year and would have brought you $505 last week.

As usual, the 15 utilities followed a fairly steady course. These government-regulated companies increase their earnings as the territory they serve grows. Their rates are closely watched. The market price of their stocks takes few big swings up or down.

You could have bought the 15 utilities at $774 and sold them five weeks later at $768. Brokers attribute this slight sag to traders' views of just how prosperous the economy is going to be—or, doubtless more accurately, as to how prosperous the territory each utility serves is likely to be.

The AP index accurately told from day to day what was happening to the 60 stocks, in the general market climate. This is only what actually happened to them in terms of dollars and cents.

Pneumonia, Flu Cases Fill Canton Hospitals

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Officials at several hospitals in Stark County blame an increase in pneumonia and flu cases recently for a shortage of beds in the hospitals. One administrator said many patients admitted for other ailments have developed cases of virus diseases, many hospital staff members are too ill to work.

To help curb the spread of flu, only immediate relatives are being allowed to visit patients. Hospitals reporting a shortage of beds are Canton's Aultman, Mercy and Timken - Mercy and the Massillon and Alliance city hospitals.

The Kingston Civic Club met at High School Wednesday for the program part of their meeting.

Mr. William Russell, music director, gave a talk on music appreciation. He spoke of the origin of music.

With the help of the band members he demonstrated the different instruments which compose a band. Mr. Russell also discussed high fidelity and stereophonic recording processes.

The club then went to the home of Mrs. Winston Hood for the business meeting which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Kenneth Timmons.

It was voted to give $100 to the Kingston Community Scholarship Fund, and to contribute to the project of District 8, Ohio Federation of Women's Club, which is the purchase of an encyclopedia for the V.A. Hospital.

MRS. DWIGHT DAVIS, state junior chairman of education, spoke briefly of the structure of the OFWC. The club made plans to enter a contestant in the OFWC Contest for "The Woman of the Year".

Mrs. Hood served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kerns Jr. and Mrs. Albert Kerns Sr. left Thursday morning for a trip to Orlando, Fla., expecting to be gone about a week.

On next Tuesday evening, the Kingston Chapter No. 411 O.E.S. will hold Birthday Anniversary meeting. It is hoped that all former matrons and patrons, as well as all members, will plan to attend.

The next meeting of the "Rays of the Star Circle" will be held in the Chapter Room February 17 at which time the officers will present for pro-tem night which will be held soon.

There were 18 present at the Bible Study session which was held at the Dwight Davis home on Monday night. The discussion was led by Mrs. Davis using the text "Know Your Bible" by Roy L. Smith.

The next meeting on Monday, will again be held at the Davis home. As the attendance increases, they hope to break up into several small groups. Much interest is being shown.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rounsley, Mr. and Mrs. Don Beeman, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower.

Mr. Richard Beavers, Mrs. Carroll Minor, Mrs. Lawrence Kerns, Mrs. Don Buchwalter, Mrs. William Russell, Rev. Harold Cowdick, and the host and hostess.

Cake and cookies were served to the group.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Immell of Route 1, Mt. Sterling, are proud to announce the birth of a son at Berger Hospital, January 27. The new baby weighed 10 pounds, 9 1/2 ounces and has been named Carl Woodford for his two grandfathers, Carl Miller and Woodford Immell.

Mr. and Mrs. Immell, the former Annalou Miller, have two little girls, Libby and Laura, so the little boy's coming is quite an event. They were residents of Kingston until eight years ago, when they moved to their present address.

British playwright Noel Coward was born in 1899. "Private Lives" and "Design for Living" are two of his more famous stage comedies.

'TOO HAPPY TO HAVE KILLED HERSELF'—Details of a shipboard romance that began at Singapore and ended with violent death of Lynn Kauffman, 23, whose body was found in Boston harbor, are scheduled to begin unfolding Feb. 10 in Boston. Willem M. L. Van Rie, radio operator of the Dutch ship Utrecht, is accused of doing away with her. Suicide, it first was called, but investigation indicated otherwise, and Miss Kauffman's father, Theodore Kauffman, insisted she was "too happy a person to have killed herself."

Nelson Family Goes On and On

Changes Fail To End This TV Fixture

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—TV trends come and go, but the Nelson family seems to go on regardless.

The Ozzie and Harriet show is in its eighth year on the home screen. While the ratings are never stratospheric, the program continues to attract loyal sponsors and viewers.

Loyalty may be the keynote of the Nelson success. No other studio set in TV is quite like theirs. Everything is done in a quiet, courteous manner with an obvious devotion to the team effort.

"There's no scene-stealing among us," Harriet remarks. "If anything, each tries to give scenes to the other one."

Ozzie, the one-man gang who acts, directs and oversees the works, bends every effort to see that all are treated fairly. He wants to be sure his sons' outside careers don't suffer because they are tied up with the show.

"David has been doing it since he was 11, Rickey since he was 8," said Ozzie. "They've been accustomed to this kind of life, and it's only natural that they would find more pride and satisfaction in doing other things. So we do everything we can to assure them freedom to do outside work."

This can mean serious dislocation of production. When either of the boys does a movie, the TV scripts have to be prepared far ahead. David or Rickey does all his scenes ahead of time, then the rest of the cast catches up later.

For instance, Rick will be gone for two months, making "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" in Hawaii. Now he's racing through a number of TV shows so he can take off. So far, no Nelson has missed making an appearance in any of the shows.

Sternwheel Towboats To Be Put Up for Sale

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two old sternwheeler towboats that still ply the Ohio River regularly pushing coal barges will be up for sale about April 1. Armco Steel Corp. plans to sell the George M. Verity and Weber W. Sebald for economy reasons and ship its coal here by train. The craft are based at Huntington, W. Va.

Former Rail Union Official Dies at 86

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — George W. Anderson, 86, for 17 years general secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, died in a private hospital near here Sunday. He was elected BRT vice president in 1917 and held the secretary-treasurer post from 1929 until he retired in 1946. Funeral services will be Wednesday at Lakewood, where Anderson lived for 30 years before moving to Wadsworth.

The following students have been on the honor roll for the entire semester:

Grade two: Brenda Bausum, Michael Snider, Anna Beth Close, Alesia McMellon, Bonnie Peters, Susan Sabine, Gale Sawyer, Jane Clay, Jody Deal, Carla Hafey, Gary McCollister, Beverly Moody, Carol Sherman.

Grade five: Dianne Brown, Carol Cordle, Jill Butt, Patricia Cook, Karen Gulick, Cheryl Littler, Jeanne Miller, Nanette Neff, Vickie Neff, Miriam Purcell, Sally Smith, Ronald Leatherwood, Mike Rogers, James Smith, Randy Wilson.

Grade six: Linda Cline, Susan Cline, Jane Nungesser, Ginger Pettibone, Karen Rife, Nicki Rush, Patty Scarberry, Janet Snyder, Linda Van Meter, Jody Butt, Rick Brown, Bill Doré, Glenn Flieri, Joey Leatherwood, Jim Ridenour, Jim Willis.

Grade seven: Mary Devons, Karen Dum.

Grade eight: Roger Caplinger, Creta Custer, Dennis Founds, Carol Derrick, Yvonne McClurg, Bob Roof.

Freshmen: Janet Bausum, Kathy Courtwright, Tom Keal, Patricia Miller, Rebecca Rockey, Sheldon Roof, Joan Vanslette, Luther Schwalbach, Douglas Wilkins, Carol Wylie, John Wylie.

Seniors: Bonnie Brown, Pamela Dixon, Patty Frazier, Mary Lockwood, Carol Pritchard, Marian Stansbury, Jack Lemon.

Of these students two have maintained straight A's each six weeks. They are Dorothy Dickinson and Luther Schwalbach.

The senior class of Ashville High School plans a cookie sale on February 13. The class will take orders for the cookies in advance. They also are planning to sell doughnuts; and although the girls say their mothers are going to make them, we don't think many of them know it.

Six students from the high school chorus will journey to Delaware, Ohio, on February 6, to participate in the annual Ohio Wesleyan Music Festival. Marty Dore, Mary Lockwood, Barbara Pritchard, Carol Wylie, Bill Cromley, and David Cooper will represent Ashville High School that day.

Four band members, Pamela Dixon, Butch Lockwood, Tom Keal and Patty Frazier, will go to Delaware February 6.

They will participate in one of the two 100-piece bands playing at the annual Ohio Wesleyan music festival.

The active day is in store for them. They will have individual tryouts in the morning and then rehearse in the afternoon.

The concert in the evening is free, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

It was decided at the freshman class meeting to divide into two teams and save sales tax stamps. On April 1, the losing team is to give the winning team a party.

Plans were made by the sophomore class for a dance on March 26. Harold Wilson's orchestra will provide the music.

The junior class is making very nice progress, financially speaking, with the concession stand at all home games. They are planning a dance in the near future, but no definite date has been set.

The senior class has a "Leap Year Dance," which will be a record hop, planned for February 27. They also decided to have a spring dance on April 23. Miss Oesterle and Mr. Mehrlay are working on plans for a graduation pagant in honor of Pickaway County's Sesquicentennial.

As 1960 rolls on, presidential candidates will be chosen at the national conventions. But before these conventions ever meet, the high schools of Ohio will have chosen their candidates.

This spring mock conventions will be sponsored by the Political Science Department of Capital University. Approximately fourteen hundred students representing some fifty-four Ohio high schools will participate in two conventions.

The Democratic Convention will be held on March 26, and the Republican on April 2.

Each school participating is assigned a state and is entitled to send one half the number that the state actually sends to the National Convention.

Ashville will send six delegates to the Democrat Convention and seven to the Republican Convention to represent North Dakota.

The participating students run the convention. They draw up a party platform and nominate nationally prominent candidates. These mock conventions are patterned after the national conventions.

All this has a purpose; and that is to teach the procedures of national conventions, to stimulate political thought among tomorrow's voters, and to create a strong and active interest in important issues among high school students.

Mrs. Kern Heads Program At Local Garden Club Meet

Mrs. C. C. McClure, 966 S. Pickaway St., was hostess to members of the Circleville Garden Club Thursday evening. Mrs. Channing Vlerebome and Mrs. Orion King were the assisting hostesses.

Guests included Mrs. Mae Neff, Mrs. Leona Hedges and Mrs. John Robinson.

Mrs. Blanche Woltz, vice-president, presided during the session. The club's newest project, the selling of Hollaudia Red Bird Feeders, were distributed to the members.

Mrs. Harry C. Kern won a gift of bulbs. Mrs. E. E. Wolf was elected to fill the office of secretary upon the resignation of Mrs. James Swagler, who will be moving to Delaware in the near future.

A dry material workshop is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Monday, February 22, in the Pickaway County Coliseum. Each member is asked to bring suitable containers, needlepoints and accent material. Mrs. Donald H. Watt will serve as instructor.

Mrs. Harry Kern, program chairman, presented an article by Hazel Teller entitled "Plants New to My Garden". The writer's idea was to compose new plants not grown at the present.

'Draperies' Theme of Local Extension Club Session

The "Professional Touch in Draperies" made at home is the theme of the workshops being held by members of the Pickaway County Extension clubs.

The first session was held Thursday in the Trinity Lutheran Parish House with Miss Kileen Ewing, Associate County Extension Agent, in charge of the 25 homemakers participating.

The lesson stressed selection of suitable materials use of proper equipment and the need for accurate and proper measurement of windows.

The methods of measuring space to be covered and allowing for necessary fullness were demonstrated by the speaker. She also listed the rules to follow when using patterned draperies, so the repeat of the design will match in the finished draperies.

Selection of materials with the pattern printed on the grain is vitally important if the draperies are to hang properly, according to Miss Ewing.

Fabrics should always be cut on the line of a pulled thread and all selvages should be removed before construction begins. Miss Ewing demonstrated the methods of straightening materials and showed samples of the various accessories that are needed in completion of the draperies.

Actual construction of a sample drape will be done by the members participating in the workshop at the next session which is to be held Thursday in the Lutheran Parish House.

Final plans for this workshop were made at the regular meeting of the Pickaway County Homemaker Council held Monday in the Extension office.

During this session, annual dues were paid by the nine clubs of the county and International Friendship funds were collected.

Mrs. Judson Beougher and Mrs. Joe Vause, members of the Minnie Price Scholarship committee, reported that the county applicant for the scholarship is to be Miss Joanna Hunsinger of Williamsport. She will compete for district and state honors this month. The scholarship, both honorary and financial, is awarded each year to two high school seniors who are planning to attend Ohio State University and major in the field of Home Economics.

Mrs. John Ankrom was named chairman of a committee to make plans for a workshop on storage to be held next month.

Mrs. Noble Barr is to head a committee to purchase material for draperies which the council will make for the Extension meeting room.

The next council meeting has been set for February 29 in the Extension office.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and son Terry had as guests for a buffet supper after the Salt Creek-Pickaway basketball game Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Mrs. Joe Blue, Mrs. Paul Dawson and son, Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Renick Valentine, Miss Minnie Kerns, Circleville; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Mafzger, Columbus.

Miss Mary Jane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, 229 E. Mill St. and her friends Marie and Marguerite Johnson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, 317 E. Corwin St., were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, Columbus. They attended the movie "Porgy and Bess" plus a party Saturday night and returned to Circleville Sunday evening. They completed the weekend by going skating Sunday night.

Advancement Club To Meet Tomorrow

The Child Advancement Club will feature a "guest night" and carry-in-dinner at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Pickaway Twp. School.

Circle 1 Schedules Wednesday Session

At 2 p.m. Wednesday members of Circle No. 1 of the First Methodist WSCS will hold its meeting in the home of Mrs. Barton Deming, 160 W. Mound St.

Catchup, Worcestershire sauce and lemon rind are a good trio to add to an oil-and-vinegar dressing for salad.

She favored the various new white varieties. They were Snow Cap Spider Wort, (tridiscantia); Cape Blanco, a rare silvery white seditum planted with a spreading variety; Nams Iragon Blood, white false Iragonhead, (physostegia); White Spire, Ilatris; the Icicle and Minuet, Veronica. She suggested planting for long lasting bloom and abundance of blossom for cutting.

New plants for this year were discussed for numerous seed catalogs on display.

In keeping with Circleville's Sesquicentennial theme, the exhibit class was entitled "Frontier Days." The use of dry material with an iron accessory was judged by Mrs. George Ritt and Mrs. Vlerebome. First place was won by Mrs. Watt. Her arrangement featured an iron beetle doorstop. Mrs. Hal Dickinson won second with an arrangement using an iron wagon and horses.

Mrs. C. E. Wright, 129 1/2 E. Mound St., will be hostess to the March 3rd meeting. The exhibit class will be "Circleville, Long Ago;" an arrangement in an urn container; and a display using articles found in an early kitchen.

Smorgasbord Planned by Altar Society

A book review by Mrs. Harry Von Kennel, Chillicothe, and plans for a Smorgasbord highlighted activities during the regular monthly meeting of the Altar Society of St. Joseph Church.

A total of 70 members attended the session which was held Wednesday evening in the church social rooms. Miss Margaret Goode, president, appointed Mrs. Margaret Shadley and her finance committee to be in charge of plans for the Smorgasbord dinner, which is to be served February 22 in the church basement.

Six new members were welcomed into the society during the session.

A report was given on the newly-organized study clubs, which now have a membership of 24 ladies. Meetings of the groups are held Monday and Thursday evenings. Mrs. Malcom Lawrence and Mrs. Frank Gill are in charge of membership.

Following the business session, Mrs. Von Kennel gave a review of "The Ice Palace" by Edna Ferber. The speaker opened her story with a brief, but pertinent, discussion of the geographical, historical and political status of Alaska; introduced her characters, and then presented the events of the novel.

The evening closed with refreshments served at tables decorated with Valentine trees. Mrs. P. R. Porter and Mrs. Carl Radcliff were chairmen of the hostess committee.

Salem WSCS Schedules Dinner-Sale

Members of the Salem Methodist WSCS met in the home of Mrs. Harry Sharrett, Kingston, Thursday evening. Mrs. Allen Woolver and Mrs. Earl Steele were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Vera Miller opened the meeting with a piano prelude followed by Mrs. Donald Alcorn giving prayer.

Mrs. Ira Barr, vice-president, used as her topic "Mountain of the Long Look". The group sang "Battleground of the Republic" and closed devotions with prayer.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Fairy Alkire. Plans were made for a sale dinner to be held at the residence of Mrs. Harry Sharrett and Mrs. Paul Arnold will be in charge.

Mrs. Alkire won the flower fund gift. It was reported that 14 sick-calls were made during the past month. Birthdays dues were paid by Mrs. Barr.

Mrs. George Minshall and Mrs. John Sharrett joined the society. Cherry pie and ice-cream were served to 26 members and five guests. Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. Harold Cowdick, Mrs. Robert Arledge and Mrs. Gene Patrick.

She made out a list of the things she wanted and I bought them for her. It set me back over $400. All this time she wouldn't even let me hold her hand.

DEAR DELL: Tough luck. If the four hundred bucks were hay you'd have had enough to eat all winter.

DEAR ABBY: We have an old maid sister who lives alone. She has so many cats and kittens we have never been able to count them. (None of them are housebroken.)

My sister says it's her home and her business. The problem is she used to give piano lessons but all her pupils have left her. Then she started going to their homes, but her clothes smelled so bad, they all quit her. Now she has no income. I begged her to give away her cats and come to live with me, but she accuses me of wanting a free baby-sitter. (My children are all grown.) When I bring her food she gives it to the cats. I'm afraid she'll starve herself. What can I do?

Miss Bower Weds Gerald Williams

A quiet little wedding ceremony was performed at 10:45 a.m. Saturday, January 30, in the Kingston Methodist Church.

The bride was Miss Patricia Bower, near Kingston and the groom was Mr. Gerald Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Williams, of Baton Rouge, La.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold Cowdick in the presence of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower, Miss Eileen Bower and Mrs. John Bright. Cecil Bower served as best man and Mrs. Bright was maid-of-honor for her cousin.

The bride is a teacher in the elementary school at Centralia. Mr. Williams has just completed his service in the U. S. Air Force where he was stationed at Casa Blanca, Morocco.

After a short wedding trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Williams are now at home on W. Pickaway St., Kingston.

Last Quarter Surge Brings Tiger Victory at Aquinas

Dominating play in the fourth quarter, the Circleville Tiger cage force stormed to a 30-37 win at Columbus Aquinas Saturday night.

The Tigers opened up their offense and tightened their defense in the final frame to score 17 points and allow Aquinas only six. The locals held a narrow 33-31 lead when the fourth quarter started.

The contest was hotly contested until Coach Dick Snuffer's force opened a breach in the hosts' defense shortly after the final period tip. Aquinas held a 14-13 margin as the first quarter came to an end and the score was deadlocked, 24-24, at halftime.

Larry Hannahs tipped the scales in favor of CHS with 21 points, 10 of them coming in the fourth quarter on-slaughter.

Ashville Unit Downs The Plains, 76-60

Ashville racked up its seventh consecutive victory and 15th of the season Saturday night, trouncing host Mt. Sterling, 76-60.

Mt. Sterling, known as The Plains, ran up a 38-34 halftime lead before the stronger Broncos came to life. Ashville led at the third period mark, 51-44, and coasted home.

The win padded Ashville's runner-up mark in the Darby Valley League at 4-1. After several low-scoring games, Gary Gaines pounded the nets for 21 points to lead the way for the Broncos.

Bobby Hoover followed with 20 points and Tom Rathburn had 18. Leading scorer for The Plains was Tom Haenzel with 21 markers. Eldon Peterson followed with 17.

The Plains record is now 9-7 on the year. Ashville won a close reserve game, 31-30, for its ninth win against six losses.

Ashville — Gaines 9-3-21; Rathburn 8-2-18; Hoover 9-2-20; Gregg 3-0-6; Hollenback 3-2-8; Roese 0-3-3; Totals 32-12-76.

Madison Mills Edges Monroe

Monroe went down to its 15th defeat of the season Saturday night at the hands of host Madison Mills, 71-62.

The taller Fayette County quintet was led by Henry's 24 points. Larry Bigam and Steve Fullen, Monroe's scoring stars, were tops for the Indians with 19 and 18 points respectively.

The Indians are not 3-1 on the year. Madison Mills won the reserve encounter, 42-27. Monroe is now 8-8 on the season.

Darby Trojans Win 6th in Row, 65-57

Darby Twp. downed a rugged and battling host West Jefferson Saturday night, 65-57, to record its sixth straight win.

The Trojans soared to a 36-22 halftime lead and held on for its 11th win against five losses. Tom Parsons tallied 26 points for WJ but this wasn't enough to offset the well-balanced scoring attack of Tony Tufano, Tommy Walters and Tommy Liff.

The red-headed Darby playmaker, Liff, led the Trojans with 18 points, followed by Walters' 14 and Tufano's 13. Although outscored from the field, 24-23, Darby won at the foul line, 19-9.

The Trojans hit 23 of 68 from the floor for 33 per cent. A total of 29 fouls were called — 12 against Darby and 17 on West Jefferson.

The Darby junior varsity fell to its 14 consecutive loss, 46-41.

Palmer Wins $12,000 in Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The 1960 golfers' gold rush in California was over today, with Arnold Palmer winner of the final, the $100,000 Palm Springs Desert Classic.

As the nomadic professionals headed for the next stop, the Phoenix Open, Palmer was richer by $12,000 — the largest purse in the 15 major tournaments he has won during five years on the circuit.

All told, in the five California tournaments, the pros collected $227,500 — not counting the $50,000 for a hole-in-one scored here by Joe Campbell.

Palmer wrecked par 36-35—71 for the Thunderbird country club course Sunday with a 65 and breezed in to win the tournament by three strokes.

The previous high purse won by the 30-year-old pro from Ligonier, Pa., was the $11,250 he received for his greatest victory — the 1958 classic.

Palmer's 90-hole total was 338, with rounds of 67-73-67-66-65. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Athens, Ohio, tied with three others at 352 with rounds of 72-72-70-72-66. He collected $397.50 in prize money.

Ez Charles Doesn't Approve Of Boxing as Boy's Career

CINCINNATI (AP)—More than 20 years ago a lithe, slim teenager from Cincinnati fought in a Golden Gloves bout here. He won. His name: Ezzard Charles.

In a long and notable career he became one of the most famous fighters of his day, winning the prize of them all—the heavyweight championship.

Tuesday night, 32 youngsters get their chance at Golden Gloves boxing. Would Charles advise the promising ones to try for a ring career?

"I don't think I would want my boy to go into it as a livelihood," he said. "It takes sacrifice and a lot of it."

Charles, now retired after a recent try at a ring comeback, works as a host in a northern Kentucky night club.

He said: "Boxing is a great thing for the kid on the amateur level. It will develop his body, give him coordination, the will to win and a sense of fair play."

But he said pro boxing calls for much more: "You have to live and breathe it every day. In everything I did, even when I was walking the streets, I was thinking about fighting. I'd eat it and sleep it. Unless a kid has that kind of attitude about it, he might as well not even try."

If a fighter reaches the top, Ezzard said, he lives comparatively well but it's a lonely life. He added:

"You're actually apart from other people. You're training constantly and trying to keep yourself in the best of physical condition. There is little time for the social part of life."

There are plenty of hazards. Ezzard never suffered the gashees and other physical stigmas of his trade, a tribute to his boxing skill. He said most fighters aren't so lucky.

There is also the shadowy, behind-the-scenes maneuvering in boxing. It erupts now and then in stories of fixes manipulations by managers and associations with underworld figures.

Ezzard said he never was confronted with these troubles and never thought his managers were less than completely honest.

"With me the will to win overshadowed all of that. I wanted to win all the time. That's one thing boxing gave me: The will to win. "And it gave me personal fame I wouldn't have had otherwise."

Two Contests Set Tomorrow

Two area teams will be in action tomorrow night as state-ranked Shawnee invades Laurelvile (10-6) and Amanda is entertained by Stoutsville (12-4) in a battle of arch rivals.

The Wildcats of Hocking County may have trouble getting started after being off 10 days due to a cancelled game Friday night against Union Furnace.

Shawnee holds an earlier victory over Laurelvile, 96-71. But the Wildcats didn't have the deadly scoring eye of Larry Keck, who is averaging 17.4 points per game, and this may make the difference.

Since their first battle Amanda has improved tremendously. It holds fine victories over Liberty Union, Bremen and Walnut and is definitely a threat in the Fairfield County Tournament.

The first contest saw the Indians win, 60-49, but anything goes tomorrow.

Hamilton Twp. Drops Walnut

Walnut dropped its third straight contest Saturday night, losing to host Hamilton Twp., 53-48.

The Tigers were no match for Hamilton's second half 32-point spree that sent Walnut down to its seventh loss in 16 outings. Hamilton owns a 10-6 slate.

The Tigers left the floor at intermission with a 30-21 lead. Clabaugh led the evening's scorers with 19 points. Gary Hoover was top man for Walnut with 17 markers.

Hamilton made it a double victory with a convincing 56-26 win over the Tiger reserves. It was Walnut's 10th loss against four wins.

Game Scioto Loses to CW

Scioto Twp. put up a stiff battle for three quarters Saturday night, but dropped a 70-56 cage tilt to invading Canal Winchester.

The score was tied, 16-16, at the end of the first quarter and Winchester held a meagre 34-33 lead at halftime. The visitors managed a 50-45 advantage in the third quarter.

Bill Hoover kept Scioto very much in the game with 18 points. Teammate Bob Whiteside turned in one of his better games and 15 tallies.

Hoffman paced the strong CW outfit with 16 points. Gale, J. Harmon and Alspach netted 14 each.

Canal Winchester captured the reserve tilt, 47-35, for a clean sweep of the evening.

Mat Force Trims Pleasant View

Seven pins and one decision was all Circleville's rampaging wrestling team needed to gain its eighth straight win of the season, a 38-13 decision Saturday at Pleasant View.

The Tiger canvas experts rushed to an 8-0 lead on a decision by Tim Mogan and a pin by Bob Owens, then finished with flying colors with solid pins in the last four bouts.

Ray Winner, back in action again, gained Circleville's second pin of the day by taking the visitor's Eddie Good to the canvas in the 130-pound class. This was followed by Chuck McDowell's pin in the 136-pound division, giving the locals an 18-5 lead.

Pleasant View picked up eight points in the next two bouts, but John Williams then got CHS back on the right path with a pin in the 156-pound class.

ROGER Kline, a 168-pounder, kept things going for the locals with another pin to shoot Circleville out front by a 28-13 count.

Danny Leonhardt, 178 pounds, was the next representative for CHS and he handled the job at hand with a pin over Kunz of PV.

Vernon Reichmanus, 262 pounds of fury, added the finishing touch for Circleville with a pin in the heavyweight division.

It marked the second win of the season for Coach John Current's power-packed squad over

Four Games Mark Guard Cage Action

Hunsicker's Elevator, Ashville Lumber, Herff Jones and the Circleville Merchants captured wins in the local National Guard cage league yesterday.

Hunsicker's, paced by Bob Metzger's 16 points, stopped Hanley's Pizza, 71-64. Ashville Lumber's Dick Hoover notched 20 markers to hand Route 23 Auto Park a 79-73 loss.

Wayne Neff hit for 23 points to lead Herff Jones to a 65-49 verdict over the National Guard. Mike Brown's 14 points paced the Merchants' 74-50 win over One-Hour Cleaners.

Rowland had 17 and Rhodes 14 for the losing Hanley outfit. Vincent and Rhodes tallied 22 each for the Auto Park and Lemley had 16 for the losing National Guard cause. Alexander hit 12 for the Cleaners.

Tuesday games list Hanley's vs Ashville, VFW vs Auto Park, and Herff Jones vs Orient.

HOME INSULATION

Ohio State has reached the halfway mark in the Big Ten basketball race with a perfect record and if the Buckeyes maintain their pace they could become the first team in 17 years to win the championship without defeat.

Although Ohio State has a way to go to win the title—let alone without defeat—there appears little at present to halt sophomore Jerry Lucas and his teammates.

In their cool and precision-like manner, the Buckeyes rolled past Northwestern 77-58 in Evanston Saturday for their seventh conference victory and their 15th triumph against two losses for the season.

Illinois, Purdue and Indiana also won away from home to keep alive their slim hopes of overtaking the Buckeyes.

Illinois defeated Michigan 75-61 for its fourth triumph in six games; Purdue surprised Michigan State 68-65 to move into a fourth place tie with idle Iowa (4-3) and Indiana evened its record at 3-3 by downing winless Wisconsin 97-85.

Ohio State shouldn't have too much trouble keeping its record clean tonight. The Buckeyes are at Wisconsin and the Badgers have yet to win a league game this season.

Other games tonight find Illinois at Michigan State, Iowa at Indiana, Northwestern at Minnesota and Purdue at Michigan.

A GENERAL TIRE FOR EVERY TRUCKING NEED!

No matter what the job—long distance hauling, stop and go city deliveries, on-the-highway . . . off-the-road service. General truck tires help you do that job better, faster! No job is too big—no job is too tough . . . for General has a different tire, a different tread for every job . . . designed especially to do that job better than any other tire.

TRACTION RIB

Engineered for longer mileage on either cross country or local cartage runs. Years of use have proven the Traction Rib to be today's greatest "bonus mileage" bargain. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

SUPER EXPRESSWAY

Here's the tire that has been labeled "the long mileage tire" because of its deeper tread—44% deeper than tread on regular truck tires—gives many more original miles. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

DCL

Strong Nylon cord construction gives the DCL a body of unusual strength—resists heat damage, bruise-breaks and blowouts—gives a truck tire that can be recapped again and again. (Available in Nylon cord construction only)

SUPER ALL-GRIP

Wide, flat tread and sharp-edged cleats make this tire excellent as drive wheel tire on delivery trucks, school buses and vehicles that travel on or off the highway. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

HCT

For transit concrete mixers, oil haulers, dump trucks and most types of freight hauling vehicles. Thicker tread cushions the ride by putting more rubber on the road. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

LCM

Ideally suitable for operation under any road conditions. For use on drive and front wheels on dump trucks, logging, mining and most types heavy road building equipment. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

Game Scioto Loses to CW

Scioto Twp. put up a stiff battle for three quarters Saturday night, but dropped a 70-56 cage tilt to invading Canal Winchester.

The score was tied, 16-16, at the end of the first quarter and Winchester held a meagre 34-33 lead at halftime. The visitors managed a 50-45 advantage in the third quarter.

Bill Hoover kept Scioto very much in the game with 18 points. Teammate Bob Whiteside turned in one of his better games and 15 tallies.

Hoffman paced the strong CW outfit with 16 points. Gale, J. Harmon and Alspach netted 14 each.

Canal Winchester captured the reserve tilt, 47-35, for a clean sweep of the evening.

A GENERAL TIRE FOR EVERY TRUCKING NEED!

No matter what the job—long distance hauling, stop and go city deliveries, on-the-highway . . . off-the-road service. General truck tires help you do that job better, faster! No job is too big—no job is too tough . . . for General has a different tire, a different tread for every job . . . designed especially to do that job better than any other tire.

TRACTION RUB
Engineered for longer mileage on either cross country or local cartage runs. Years of use have proven the Traction Rub to be today's greatest "bonus mileage" bargain. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

SUPER EXPRESSWAY
Here's the tire that has been labeled "the long mileage tire" because of its deeper tread—44% deeper than tread on regular truck tires—gives many more original miles. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

DCL
Strong Nylon cord construction gives the DCL a body of unusual strength—resists heat damage, brake-breaks and blowouts—gives a truck tire that can be recapped again and again. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction only)

SUPER ALL-GRIP
Wide, flat tread and sharp-edged cleats make this tire excellent as drive wheel tire on delivery trucks, school buses and vehicles that travel on or off the highway. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

HCT
For transit concrete mixers, oil haulers, dump trucks and most types of freight hauling vehicles. Thicker tread cushions the ride by putting more rubber on the road. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

LCM
Ideally suitable for operation under any road conditions. For use on drive and front wheels of dump trucks, logging, mining and most types heavy road building equipment. (Available in Nylon or rayon cord construction)

8th in Row Mat Force Trims Pleasant View

Seven pins and one decision was all Circleville's rampaging wrestling team needed to gain its eighth straight win of the season, a 38-13 decision Saturday at Pleasant View.

The Tiger canvas experts rushed to an 8-0 lead on a decision by Tim Mogan and a pin by Bob Owens, then finished with flying colors with solid pins in the last four bouts.

Ray Winner, back in action again, gained Circleville's second pin of the day by taking the visitor's Eddie Good to the canvas in the 130-pound class. This was followed by Chuck McDowell's pin in the 136-pound division, giving the locals an 18-5 lead.

Pleasant View picked up eight points in the next two bouts, but John Williams then got CHS back on the right path with a pin in the 156-pound class.

ROGER Kline, a 168-pounder, kept things going for the locals with another pin to shoot Circleville out front by a 28-13 count.

Danny Leonhardt, 178 pounds, was the next representative for CHS and he handled the job at hand with a pin over Kunz of PV.

Vernon Reichmanus, 202 pounds of fury, added the finishing touch for Circleville with a pin in the heavyweight division.

It marked the second win of the season for Coach John Current's power-packed squad over

Bucks Reach Mid-Mark in Big Ten Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State has reached the halfway mark in the Big Ten basketball race with a perfect record and if the Buckeyes maintain their pace they could become the first team in 17 years to win the championship without defeat.

Although Ohio State has a way to go to win the title—let alone without defeat—there appears little at present to halt sophomore Jerry Lucas and his teammates.

In their cool and precision-like manner, the Buckeyes rolled past Northwestern 77-58 in Evanston Saturday for their seventh conference victory and their 15th triumph against two losses for the season.

Illinois, Purdue and Indiana also won away from home to keep alive their slim hopes of overtaking the Buckeyes.

Illinois defeated Michigan 75-61 for its fourth triumph in six games; Purdue surprised Michigan State 68-65 to move into a fourth place tie with Iowa (4-3) and Indiana evened its record at 3-3 by downing winless Wisconsin 97-85.

Ohio State shouldn't have too much trouble keeping its record clean tonight. The Buckeyes are at Wisconsin and the Badgers have yet to win a league game this season.

Other games tonight find Illinois at Michigan State, Iowa at Indiana, Northwestern at Minnesota and Purdue at Michigan.

Four Games Mark Guard Cage Action

Hunsicker's Elevator, Ashville Lumber, Herff Jones and the Circleville Merchants captured wins in the local National Guard cage league yesterday.

Hunsicker's, paced by Bob Metzger's 18 points, stopped Hanley's Pizza, 71-64. Ashville Lumber's Dick Hoover notched 20 markers to hand Route 23 Auto Park a 79-73 loss.

Wayne Neff hit for 23 points to lead Herff Jones to a 65-49 verdict over the National Guard. Mike Brown's 14 points paced the Merchants' 74-50 win over One-Hour Cleaners.

Rowland had 17 and Rhodes 14 for the losing Hanley outfit. Vincent and Rhodes tallied 23 each for the Auto Park and Lemley had 16 for the losing National Guard cause. Alexander hit 12 for the Cleaners.

Tuesday games list Hanley's vs Ashville, VFW vs Auto Park, and Herff Jones vs Orient.

Gil Hodges has hit 14 grand slam home runs for the Dodgers.

Just How Far Can Big 'O Run His Scoring Record?

Just how far can Oscar Robertson go with these scoring feats that are rounding out his brilliant collegiate career? Perhaps 3,000 points? Additional scoring records? Why not?

Actually, the sky is the limit for Robertson now that he has become college basketball's all-time point producer. He begins improving on his present mark of 2,600 tonight when his Cincinnati Bearcats, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press' poll, take on Missouri Valley chum North Texas State.

Robertson has eight regular season games remaining, plus an unknown number of postseason tournament contests. If he keeps his 35.8 per game average, he will hit 2,886 points at the end of the season, and only four postseason games would surpass the 3,000 point mark. A successful NCAA or NIT tourney could do it.

He will have a little more opportunity now to concentrate on scoring since the Bearcats have their top defensive ace, Bob Weisenhan back after a month's absence with an ankle injury. Eisehan played in last Saturday night's 67-55 victory over Houston. His 2,600 points is also the three-season mark. The previous all-time record was set in four seasons by Dick Hemric, who finished with 2,587 points. The three-year mark that Robertson, a senior, broke last week was Frank Selvy's 2,538.

He has a few more in sight too: Career average—32.5 by Selvy. Robby has 35.4 to date.

Most field goals—Elgin Baylor's 956. Oscar has 910.

Most free throws—Hemric's 905. The Big O has 778.

He also can become the first ever to win the major scoring title three years in a row.

But Robertson's scoring feats, which also get a test Friday at St. Louis, are the least of the worries for most of the top teams this week. Bradley, ranked second nationally and tied for Mo

This May Be Greatest Year In Ohio Basketball History

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This could be the most star-spangled campaign in Ohio collegiate cage history.

The Buckeye basketballers have a month to go, but it would require some startling upsets in the closing make-or-break weeks to dim the lustre.

came the game's greatest scorer Saturday night as he counted 29 in the Missouri Valley victory over Houston. That gave him 638 for 18 games this year, the nation's top average of 35.4, and a 76 - game career count of 2600 which erased the national record of 2587 set in 104 games by Wake Forest's Dickie Hemric in the mid-fifties.

The Ohioans appear ready to add a host of other laurels. Cincinnati is rated No. 1 in the country, Ohio State fourth, Toledo 12th and Dayton 13th. All could wind up in the top 10, and at least three of them probably will.

Ohio State's scintillating sophomores, with wins over Michigan and Northwestern last week, appear in as the new Big Ten champions. The Bucks have a 7-0 record, while Illinois in second place is 4-2, and all the others have dropped at least three games.

The Ohio Staters also lead the country in team scoring, and big Jerry Lucas is well up in the individual race with a 27-point average. More than holding his own is little Jim Darrow of Bowling Green, who added 65 to his total last week with 26 against Marshall and 39 against Miami, for a 17-game total of 425 and an average of 28.8.

The windup could find Robertson, Darrow and Lucas well up in the nation's scoring list—all certainly in the top 10.

Capital and Ohio Wesleyan, both out of the fight, combined Saturday night to just about hand Wittenberg its second straight Ohio Conference championship. Akron and Oberlin, on Wittenberg's heels with 61 records, were dumped as Capital tripped the Yeomen 64-61 and the Bishops upset the Zippers 81-75.

That left Wittenberg far out front with 8-0, Muskingum taking over the runner-up spot with 9-2. Ohio University, despite the loss of a couple of kids who failed to hurdle the books, defeated Marshall 86-82 to ease back into the Mid-American lead with a 7-1 record to Toledo's 6-1.

The all-around class of the Ohio contingent shows up in the interstate list. Last week, in games with out-of-staters, Ohio clubs won 20 and lost 7. That left the Buckeye squads with a huge 157 to 96 advantage for the season against outside teams.

Just How Far Can Big O Run His Scoring Record?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just how far can Oscar Robertson go with these scoring feats that are rounding out his brilliant collegiate career? Perhaps 3,000 points? Additional scoring records? Why not?

Actually, the sky is the limit for Robertson now that he has become college basketball's all-time point producer. He begins improving on his present mark of 2,600 tonight when his Cincinnati Bearcats, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press' poll, take on Missouri Valley champion North Texas State.

Robertson has eight regular season games remaining, plus an unknown number of postseason tournament contests. If he keeps his 35.8 per game average, he will hit 2,886 points at the end of the season, and only four postseason games would surpass the 3,000 point mark. A successful NCAA or NIT tourney could do it.

He will have a little more opportunity now to concentrate on scoring since the Bearcats have their top defensive ace, Bob Weisenhan back after a month's absence with an ankle injury. Eichenhan played in last Saturday night's 67-55 victory over Houston.

His 2,600 points is also the three-season mark. The previous all-time record was set in four seasons by Dick Hemric, who finished with 2,587 points. The three-year mark that Robertson, a senior, broke last week was Frank Selvy's 2,538.

He has a few more in sight too: Career average—32.5 by Selvy. Robby has 35.4 to date.

Most field goals—Elgin Baylor's 956. Oscar has 910.

Most free throws—Hemric's 905. The Big O has 778.

He also can become the first ever to win the major scoring title three years in a row.

But Robertson's scoring feats, which also get a test Friday at St. Louis, are the least of the worries for most of the top teams this week. Bradley, ranked second nationally and tied for Mo

Valley leadership with Cincinnati after beating North Texas 101-61 Saturday, plays Houston tonight and Drake Saturday.

California, which leads the Big Five though it was idle last Saturday, has a toughie Thursday with Southern California which handed the Golden Bears their only loss in 18 games. Third-ranked California must also face tough UCLA on Saturday. Ohio State, (15-2 and No. 4), a 77-58 winner over Northwestern Saturday, leads the Big Ten with a 7-0 mark but has Wisconsin tonight and rugged Iowa Saturday.

West Virginia goes after its 42nd straight home victory tonight against NYU, then travels to New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday to play St. John's and resumes its Southern Conference scheduled Saturday against Richmond. The fifth-ranked Mountaineers easily handled George Washington 101-79 last Saturday, helped by Jerry West's 29 points and 31 rebounds.

Utah State, ninth-ranked and winner of 11 straight after whipping New Mexico 86-59 Saturday, meets Brigham Young this Saturday. Utah, No. 7 and a game back in the Skyline Conference, plays Montana the same night.

Elsewhere among the elite, Southeastern Conference leader Georgia Tech (No. 6) plays Louisiana State tonight in its only conference game this week; Villanova (No. 8) meets Pitt Thursday, then runs into NYU on Saturday; and tenth-ranked Texas A&M plays Arkansas Tuesday night to decide Southwest Conference leadership, and then meets Rice Saturday.

Atlantic Coast Conference leader North Carolina plays Clemson tonight. Wake Forest Thursday and Duke Saturday to test its standing while Kansas State, leader in the Big Eight, meets rival Kansas tonight. Ivy leader Dartmouth has no league action until the weekend when it meets Brown and Yale.

This May Be Greatest Year In Ohio Basketball History

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This could be the most star-spangled campaign in Ohio collegiate cage history.

The Buckeye basketballers have a month to go, but it would require some startling upsets in the closing make-or-break weeks to dim the lustre.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson became the game's greatest scorer Saturday night as he counted 29 in the Missouri Valley victory over Houston. That gave him 638 for 18 games this year, the nation's top average of 35.4, and a 76 - game career count of 2600 which erased the national record of 2587 set in 104 games by Wake Forest's Dickie Hemric in the mid-fifties.

The Ohioans appear ready to add a host of other laurels.

Cincinnati is rated No. 1 in the country, Ohio State fourth, Toledo 12th and Dayton 13th. All could wind up in the top 10, and at least three of them probably will.

Ohio State's scintillating sophomores, with wins over Michigan and Northwestern last week, appear in as the new Big Ten champions. The Bucks have a 7-0 record, while Illinois in second place is 4-2, and all the others have dropped at least three games.

The Ohio Staters also lead the country in team scoring, and big Jerry Lucas is well up in the individual race with a 27-point average. More than holding his own is little Jim Darrow of Bowling Green, who added 65 to his total last week with 26 against Marshall and 39 against Miami, for a 17-game total of 425 and an average of 25.8.

The windup could find Robertson, Darrow and Lucas well up in the nation's scoring list—all certainly in the top 10.

Capital and Ohio Wesleyan, both out of the fight, combined Saturday night to just about hand Wittenberg its second straight Ohio Conference championship. Akron and Oberlin, on Wittenberg's heels with 6-1 records, were dumped as Capital tripped the Yeomen 64-61 and the Bishops upset the Zippers 81-75.

That left Wittenberg far out front with 8-0, Muskingum taking over the runner-up spot with 9-2. Ohio University, despite the loss of a couple of kids who failed to hurdle the books, defeated Marshall 86-82 to ease back into the Mid-American lead with a 7-1 record to Toledo's 6-1.

The all-around class of the Ohio contingent shows up in the interstate list. Last week, in games with out-of-staters, Ohio clubs won 20 and lost 7. That left the Buckeye squads with a huge 157 to 66 advantage for the season against outside teams.

Southern College for Women Shows High Quality of Girls

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—Anybody who's worried about the future of the nation should take a few days off to get acquainted with America's college girls.

I don't mean just the prom-trotting belles of the Ivy League circuit. I mean the just as glamorous but less bored youngsters of the Midwest and the South, who often have to work their way through college. Not only are there more of them, but they also represent what makes America tick.

The most fun I've had since my own college days was this week on the beautiful old campus of America's oldest state-supported women's college, the Mississippi
State College for Women. Here
1,400 girls are learning the arts and sciences they will need to face the complicated future. Many hold down full-time jobs on the side and all are ready to face whatever the next decade may bring.

I had the privilege this week of refereeing a bout between these fast-thinking, completely realistic students and a group of the nation's most famous educators, fathered to settle the fate of women's education for the next century. Students were invited to submit questions after each of the erudite lectures.

Here are some of the questions:
"Should a married couple still going to college practice birth control?"

(The answer was: "Heavens, yes." Yet despite the advice of the assembled college presidents and doctors of philosophy, there seem to be more and more students all over the country who bring two or three children along to graduation.)

Question: "If both husband and wife have jobs, should the husband help with the housework?"

Answer: "Not unless you want all your dishes broken."

Question: "Can a woman do a man's job and still keep her femininity and her husband's love?"

Answer: "If she can't, she better start learning how."

Reds Claim West Using Stripteasers

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Striptease on the river banks by Western bathing beauties is plaguing susceptible border guards of Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia.

The Slovak Communist newspaper Smena charges West Germany is doing this unfair thing—releasing the news in midwinter, apparently after stewing over it since the last bathing season. Reported Smena:

"The Bavarian brook is a rendezvous of girls. They remove their clothing, piece by piece, and uncover their bodies until they are only in their swim suits. But they do not go into the water of the stream, as one might expect.
Oh, no. They walk toward the barbed wire where our uniformed guards are at their posts. The girls move so as to show off their half-naked breasts. They know only a few words of our language, but the rest they say with their bodies..."

The Communist paper claims the river sirens are "paid for this body talk." It implied they were dispatched to lure susceptible Communist guards into deserting to the West.

New Manager Named for GE Large Lamps

The appointment of Donald D.
Scarff as general manager of the General Electric Company's Large Lamp Department was announced today by Herman L. Weiss, general manager of the Lamp Division at Nela Park, Cleveland.

Scarff, formerly Western Region sales manager of the Large Lamp Department, replaces Weiss who has been serving as acting general manager of the department since Dec. 14, 1959.

As general manager of the Large Lamp Department, Scarff is responsible for the development, manufacture, distribution and marketing of lamps used for the lighting of homes, offices, stores, factories, schools and elsewhere.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Scarff attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering. Following graduation he joined General Electric in 1941 as a student engineer attached to the Engineering Department of the Apparatus Division at Schenectady, N. Y.

During World War II, he was associated with the design and development of aircraft radar and ordnance equipment for the armed forces. In 1946, he joined the New England Sales District of the Lamp Division in Boston where he engaged in sales work.

HE WAS PUT in charge of the district's sales promotion activities in 1948. During 1949 and 1950, Scarff was a member of the Advertising Department at Nela Park in Cleveland.

In 1951 he transferred to the East Cleveland Lamp Works and moved to the South Central Sales District at Memphis in 1952. He was made manager of the Puget Sound Sales District, Seattle,
Washington, in 1953, and manager of the Pacific Sales District in Oakland, Calif. in 1955.

Scarff became manager of the five Large Lamp Department Sales Districts in 1957, remaining in this post until his present assignment.

Scarff, whose office has been at Oakland, will make his headquarters at Nela Park in Cleveland. He is married and the father of two children.

Indians Top Pleasantville, 65-59, for 12th Victory

Stoutsville capitalized at the foul line Saturday afternoon to down Pleasantville, 65-59. The contest was played on the Millersport court at 2 p. m.

Both teams tallied 19 field goals, but the Indians outscored Pleasantville from the free throw line, 27-21, to win its 12th game against four losses.

Bobby Sells, from the corner, and Richard Bussert on drive-ins, led Stoutsville scoring with 18 or 19 points respectively. High men for Pleasantville were Marshall with 13 and Markwood with 11 points.

The high fouling contest saw 50
personals called—29 against Pleasantville and 21 on the Indians. The Indians trailed throughout, 19-14, 35-28 and 47-43 at the end of the third quarter.

STOUTSVILLE'S last period rally of 22 points carried it to victory as Pleasantville was held to 12 markers. Pleasantville's Fairfield County League record is now 3-6, while Stoutsville retains a third place tie with a 7-3 slate.
Pleasantville won the reserve encounter, 52-26, handing the Indian junior varsity its seventh loss.

Boys Have Odd Method

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two boys, aged 9 and 10, had police juvenile bureau officers a bit puzzled today.

The boys told officers they threw rocks through Ohio Avenue neighborhood windows so they could get to school on time.

Patrolman Carl Burns asked them for further explanation. They games and refreshments were serious vein:

"Someone would always chase us and we'd run the rest of the way to school."

Man Is Tied Up 5 Days By Robbers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A comfortable hospital bed and plenty of good food must seem like heaven to Edgar Allen—if he's in any mood for a look at heaven.
He probably had plenty of chance to imagine what it might be like during a five-day ordeal that brought him perilously close to death.

The slight, 65-year-old man lay on the floor of his home from last Monday till Saturday—bound hand and foot. Allen, normally a 100-pounder, reduced to about 80 pounds before he was found. But he was sprightly enough to greet his rescuer with "Boy, am I glad to see you. C'mon in."

Allen was saved when Gene Shaw, owner of a restaurant that he patronized daily, missed him.
Shaw sent William Terry, of Union
Ohio, to Allen's home in nearby
Englewood to see if anything was wrong.

Terry discovered Allen tied with drapery cord. The retired department store employee reported that two teen-agers grabbed him outside his home, forced him inside and tied him up. Police said the pair took $1,07, Allen's 1951 car and his dead wife's rings.

Another 24 to 48 hours and it would have been too late to save
Allen, Doctors at Good Samaritan Hospital here said. As it was, he suffered extreme malnutrition and dehydration. But he wasn't afraid during the ordeal, he said.

Boy, 2, in Iron Lung, Dies in Cleveland Clinic

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lloyd Patterson Jr., 2, brought here a week ago by airplane in an iron lung, died Sunday in Metropolitan General Hospital. Lloyd had had one shot of Salk vaccine and was admitted to the Duke University Hospital at Durham, N. C., Sept. 9.
The National Foundation arranged to have him flown here so he could be near relatives.

His grandmother lives in Akron.
The boy's mother is dead and his father lives in Fayetteville, N. C.
